Plans Go Forward on Landmark Work

Local Committee on Mission Holds Its First Meeting. A Caretaker Is Wanted

The committee representing local organizations which will co-operate with the state to found a permanent historic museum in the Mission San Francisco de Solano and keep it open to the public, held its first meeting on Tuesday night. The committee is as follows:

Miss Meta Stofen, Women's Club; J. F. Prestwood, Native Sons of the Golden West; L. H. Green, Y. M. I.; J. W. Minges, Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce; A. W. Adler, Sonoma Business Men's Association; Mrs. Adler, Native Daughters of the Golden West. Mayor Bulotti represents the city of Sonoma.

It is planned to get a caretaker and to keep up the grounds and the historic church which is to be improved by the state.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at the club house. Anyone who would consider the proposition of being caretaker of the Mission is asked to communicate with Miss Meta Stofen. While no regular compensation can be allowed, furnished living rooms will be provided for provided and considerable revenue can be derived from the sale of souvenirs and fancy work.

ENJOYED NOVELTY OF SNOW IN HIGH SIERRAS

Among those who went to Summit last Saturday and enjoyed the outing in the snow in the vicinity of the Summit Hotel were Misses Picetti, Felder and Amy Heggie. The young ladies donned skis and also enjoyed tobogganing. The snow was so deep it reached almost to the wires of the telephone poles. They were given a fine time and found comfort and hospitality at the hotel among the friends and former Sonoma residents now running the famous resort.

Many photographs were taken by the Sonoma girls of fantastic snow scenes and other interesting things on the trip.

CUSTOMER FOR MASQUERADE IS HERE

The mask ball to be given here tonight by the Boyes Springs New Improvement Club is to eclipse all similar events in years, a professional costumer from San Francisco being in attendance to provide dancers with a wide range of beautiful and novel ideas. Costumes have been on display at Lamberts and at Wagners store, Boyes Springs. Costumes can be rented at Union Hall all day today.

Y. M. I. DANCE ON NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

Local Council of Young Men's Institute to Honor St. Patrick on March 18th.

The local council of Y. M. I. which numbers many of our leading young men, have perfected arrangements for a fine time in honor of St. Patrick's day. Next Saturday night at Union Hall the grand ball in honor of Erin's patron saint will be given and it promises to be a fine party.

John Steiner, Jr., is to be floor manager, which assures the sociability of the evening.

A mother's waltz in which all the young men having mothers present will claim them as partners will be a feature of the evening.

CLUB NOTES

The Women's Club rendered a most satisfactory report at the meeting of March 3. All the yearly reports were read and brought much applause, as these far exceeded those of last year in receipts, membership and social functions. The club now numbers over 100 members, each meeting presenting new names. Mrs. Georgiana Stickle, Miss Marian Chester and Mrs. Wardell are now members. The card party was a grand success, bringing $25 to the treasury. Refreshments deserve special mention. The prizes were won by Miss Florence Rolph and Henry Weber.

Another $100 was paid towards the club house indebtedness, leaving still $900 to pay. Congratulations to the S. V. W. Club.

A grand ball is planned for soon after Lent, and many fanciful details will be introduced to captivate the public.

L. V. EMPARAN,
Club Reporter.

BENEFIT FOR STATE HOME BASE BALL CLUB

Thursday night at the gymnasium of the State Home there will be a benefit dance for the Baseball Club of the big institution. Dinty Moore and his Santa Rosa "jazz hounds" are the advertised attraction and there will be a good time for all who attend with "cats" and sociability sandwiched in between all the latest dance numbers. Everyone will be welcome.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Larsen & Segrist Successful Bidders On General Contract. Scott & Co. To Install Heating Plant.

Larsen & Segrist of San Francisco have been awarded the contract for building the new Sonoma Valley Union High School, their bid of $108,777.00 being the lowest and best. The steam oil burner heating plant contract went to Scott & Co., at $8,590.00 making the total cost of the new building $112,367.00.

Ground for the new building will be broken Monday and the contract specifies that the work shall be completed within 155 days, which should give us our new building by September first of this year.

Larsen & Segrist are successful contractors and have five big jobs at the present time, three of which are school buildings. Foreman Mernitz who will be in charge of construction work here put up the Don Lee building in San Francisco, Crockett Sugar refinery and other big structures. As many local men will be hired as possible, the contractors believing that community pride begets a better job than the non-interested artisan would turn out.

The site of the new building on Broadway will soon have a huge bill board carrying this message: "Site of Sonoma Valley's new $100,000 High School Building"

In this issue of the Index-Tribune, the old school building and site are offered for sale, bids to be received up to April 3rd.

BIG YEAR FORECAST BY VALLEY MERCHANT

Emmet Mullen, promising young El Verano merchant, who was in Santa Rosa Wednesday, declared that all prospects are for the most prosperous season this year in the history of the Sonoma Valley.

"There is a great deal of building going on," he said, "and already the resort business is opening up for the summer season."

Mullen is one of the progressive business men of the valley, and is a booster for improvements.—Press-Democrat.

Initiate Ordinance for Plaza Lease

Petition Circulated Yesterday to Enable Voters to Express Themselves on Oil Station Plan

The following ordinance was initiated and signers secured yesterday authorizing the Trustees of the city of Sonoma to improve and beautify the Plaza by leasing a corner for an oil station at $100 per month:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma, Cal.

We, the undersigned qualified electors of the city of Sonoma, being fifteen per cent of the qualified electors of said city, respectfully petition your Honorable Board to refer to the voters of said city, an Ordinance providing for the improvement of the public Plaza in said city. Said proposed ordinance to be worded as follows:

Ordinance No. of the City of Sonoma.

An Ordinance to improve and beautify the Public Plaza, and to lease a portion thereof for that purpose.

The Board of Trustees shall have power and it shall be their duty to improve the Public Plaza by providing rest rooms and other conveniences for the use of the general public, and to that end, the Board shall have power to lease a portion of said Plaza for a period of not more than ten years, to be used as an oil station.

Provided, that the rental of such land shall be not less than one hundred dollars per month;

That the buildings erected thereon shall contain a rest room and toilets for the use and benefit of the general public;

That the buildings and grounds shall be constructed and maintained in accordance with plans approved by the Board of Trustees.

And further provided, that all said conditions shall be made a part of the lease made by the said city of Sonoma, by its Board of Trustees, shall contain the foregoing conditions.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ELECTION NEXT THURSDAY

At the regular March meeting of the Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce next Thursday, nomination of officers will be in order. It is to be hoped that it will mark the end of the discord and friction which has been apparent for some time past.

The personal of the officers has a marked effect on the prestige of the organization and the morale of the membership.

Because it is extremely difficult to get a competent secretary from among the average members interested in promotion work, it has been regarded as necessary to affiliate with the American City Bureau and its professional staff. Not until a canvass of Sonoma Valley is made can it be said whether or not this section is ready to undertake and finance the big program which the American City Bureau would outline for us. However the Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce leaders hope to sponsor the preliminaries and to ascertain public sentiment.

Prominent men in the organization realize that what the local body needs is executive talent and no matter what plans or projects the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce might outline, it would be useless until the Sonoma organization has a president who will devote his time to it and a secretary who has the ability and inclination to work in harmony with the membership.

The Valley of the Moon Chamber of Commerce is but repeating the experience of similarly conceived and conducted local promotion bodies in Sonoma Valley. Haphazard management and amateur effort can result in nothing but indifferent success. It is not a proposition to enlist the financial support of progressive citizens.

With the American City Bureau in charge, public spirited men and women would feel that a local Chamber of Commerce would be an excellent investment. I trust the Valley of the Moon membership will try out the plan and elect some officers who can hold the organization together until it is on the proper basis.

BOOSTER

Mrs. Edrington of Glen Ellen has rented a shop on Broadway next to Mailey & Peterson's and will do hemstitching and picot edging. Dressmaking will also be featured. The new shop will fill a long felt want and be welcomed by those who have had to send their hemstitching and picotting away.

GEORGE WALLMAN DIES SUDDENLY

George Wallman, for over twenty-five years a resident of the Sonoma Valley, was seized with an attack of heart failure Friday of last week while driving his automobile from the yard of his home and died almost instantly. He was a native of Germany, aged 66 years. Wallman was the father of Mrs. Frank Matsuyama of Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Hill of Eldridge, who have been spending the past month in San Francisco with Mr. Hill's uncle, Major Harry Hill, whose health has been failing, will probably remain there for another month. In the meantime, Mr. Hill makes occasional trips to his Sonoma valley ranch. Major Hill first came to Sonoma valley in 1872.

THE BOOK OF JACK LONDON

The Book of Jack London, an intimate study and narrative of Jack London is an unusual book, for more than mere biography and proves that love is not always blind, for the authoress, his mate woman, Charmian London, has given the world the true Jack London, stripped of all veneer, and the fine grain of him will remain forever with those who will acquaint themselves with the author through Mrs. London's absorbing study of him.

The volumes are of particular interest to those living within sight of the "beauty ranch" behind whose hills the setting sun ever reminds of the brilliant, vivid personality which faded into eternal night some three years ago. Mrs. London has dedicated her book to Eliza London Shepard and the enduring loyalty and influence of an unusual sister and the part she played in Jack London's life will be read with keep appreciation by all who know the magnetic and resourceful Eliza Shepard.

The first volume of the Book of Jack London covers his ancestry, boyhood and early literary efforts, up to the time of his first marriage.

It goes into his platonic friendship and association with the young woman with whom he collaborated in the writing of the Kempton-Wac letters. Various chapters among them, the tramp experience and the Alaskan adventures reveal the source of much of his literary material. Jack London evidently coined every experience into a story, even the "rot gut imbibed at 14 years of age, appearing many years later in the lurid expose, "John Barleycorn," a story dubbed curious and even contradictory by intimates such as Michael Monahan.

"Dawn or twilight he loved the way of a boat upon the sea," Charmian London tells us and we know it from his sea tales and boat stories.

All the material touching on the extent of London's socialism is of interest. "He had a mental craving for truth," the authoress reminds us. She sets forth his close contact with the under dog and the industrial system which he sought to better, but that he disapproved the equality of men is apparent. He rose above the social slime and having risen chose to stay there to help others up. Charmian London gives a satisfying explanation of how London the socialist was reconciled to the prosperity he won. It is evident that while he believed that brawn was exploited, he saw there was no barrier to mental possibilities and brain work. He said "There is no such thing as inspiration and little of genius. Dig!"

It is of interest to record here that Jack London almost on the brink of a Hamlet-like despair was restored to a fresh, new outlook upon life by coming to Glen Ellen, where the romance with his mate woman blossomed and enriched his teeming soul.

The descriptive of the Beauty Ranch in the Valley of the Moon, the allusion to our mineral springs, wild flowers, climate and scenery, in these volumes will do worlds for the fame of Sonoma Valley, for this is no work of fiction.

The authoress touches upon local celebrities too, such as Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Hill and Mrs. Hill's cordial handshake, Mrs. Parrent, the Spreckels, Bill Ping and others who lived in the vicinity of the ranch. "Summer at Glen Ellen," 1905, is one of the interesting chapters of Volume Two.

London's separation and divorce is treated fairly, though here and there we can discern a little note of triumph for whose edification is it not hard to guess—that's the woman of it. The authoress quotes London as saying of a once considered reconciliation: "If I had gone back it would have meant suicide or insanity."

The volume recites the adventures and happenings of the wonderful comradeship between London and his mate woman wife from 1905 to his death. The style of the second volume seems less cumbersome than the first, perhaps the intimate subject matter lending itself more easily to literary treatment. Charmian London has more than ever polarized him and will keep Jack London books for many years in many climes among the best sellers and one who read her book.

The cynic may find fault with the constant reiteration of the great love between the two comrades of the book, but in real life it was so obvious and unusual that it has a right to be thus proudly dwelt upon.

One question which ambitious young authors might like cleared up a little better is just how remunerative is successful authorship, but perhaps we are to guess that from the richness of life on the vast acreage at Glen Ellen, where many projects were started.

The Book of Jack London should be read and familiarized by everyone in this locality for it is no new experience to be cross examined about Jack London the minute it is discovered that you are from the Valley of the Moon. You may have known the care-free, hatless author-rancher as he rode over Sonoma's roads and may cherish the memory of him, but you will never know the man until you have read Charmian London's story of him.

AGAINST WATER AND POWER ACT SOON TO BE VOTED ON

City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy, directing head of the municipal street railroad in San Francisco and builder of the Hetch Hetchy water supply system now in course of construction, declared in a statement given out recently that the water and power act, which is to be submitted to the voters of the state at the coming election, would result in wasteful competition and prove failure if adopted. His statement reads:

"Although an advocate of municipal ownership of water supply wherever practicable, I am opposed to the pending water and power act. The principal objection to it is that it will not work. Bureau operation of a great industrial enterprise in a state 800 miles long and 200 broad will not and cannot succeed.

"The scheme is wrong. Under the plan proposed five hundred millions of dollars raised by bonding the state could be devoted to establishing public utilities to compete with public utilities already established. That would mean waste and waste would be fatal to so vast an enterprise. Then again, the act provides that preference to water and power developed would be given to communities nearest the source. Such an arbitrary rule would mean confusion and often injustice, for the needy community might be shut out entirely.

"No limit is placed on the amount of bonds for any particular project. This is another plan that will work badly. New South Wales tried the scheme of issuing unlimited bonds for irrigation districts. Under this method projects were improperly designed and inadequately estimated. As a result the projects failed, causing financial disaster to the communities involved, and seriously damaging the State credit.

"Advocates of the act have cited the Caribou project, a private enterprise, which cost $16,500,000, although the estimate was but $5,500,000. Surely that is no argument for state ownership. There is no assurance and little likelihood that the state will be able to obtain better engineers than are employed by private companies. Underestimates will happen, and with this difference—private companies pay for their own mistakes while public companies put the extra load on the taxpayers or the rate payers, or both."

WANT POLICEWOMEN AT COUNTRY DANCES

The executive committee of the Sonoma County W. C. T. U. held an all day meeting on Thursday of last week in the M. E. church, with some 50 ladies present from various parts of the county. Routine matters occupied the morning session and at noon a luncheon was served in the church parlors.

During the afternoon a resolution was adopted favoring a county organization to wage a campaign in favor of the adoption of the Wright enforcement act which is being held up by referendum.

There was a consideration of the many country dances and it was decided to ask the supervisors for an ordinance which would provide supervision and regulation to prevent the continuance of conduct which has resulted in severe criticism in all neighborhoods where such dances are conducted.—S. SONOMA GETS WRITE-UP IN "THE BOOSTER"

With the exception of the error as to the location of our pump and chemical fire engine, "The Booster," with a circulation of 8,000, the official organ of the North of Bay Counties Association, gives Sonoma city very satisfactory publicity in the March number. Here is what The Booster says of our activities:

During the past year over thirty new bungalows have been erected in one residence section of Sonoma city. A three story hotel with modern accommodations and private baths attached to rooms is now under course of construction.

An apartment house and several new fire-proof store buildings of very attractive design have been contracted for.

The Union High School has acquired a 20 acre site for the erection of a new $100,000 building, money for this having been voted at a recent bond election. A modern pump and chemical fire engine stationed at Boyes Springs, supplemented by two other chemical engines here, provides excellent fire protection. The Sonoma Business Men's Association raised the money for the purchase of the combination pump and chemical engine.

The finest water for domestic use in all California is supplied from an ever living spring on the old Vallejo place. There is also an abundance of artesian wells in and around Sonoma.

The State of California has ordered additional work done on the old Mission San Francisco de Solano, located in Sonoma City, and the grounds will be laid out in flowers and lawns. Two miles of cement sidewalks have been laid within the city limits during the past few months.

The Sonoma Business Men's Association and a Women's Club of over 100 members are doing exceptionally fine civic and promotion work.

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church will hold their monthly original meeting next Sunday evening, March 19, at 7 o'clock.

In the original meeting contest, which the C. E. societies of the state are having, the Sonoma society on one occasion was accorded first place in the state and at another time first place in the county.

Below is given a copy of the evening's program. The Senior society will also have charge of the evening church service. Arrangements have been made for special music, one feature of which will be a solo by the chorister, Mrs. Savacool:

Topic, "Better Church Attendance." Scripture reference, Hebrews 10: 23-25; Psalms 55: 14; Psalms 122: 1.

1. What does the church represent? What is its business? Is it the duty of all professing Christians to support some organized church?

2. How much truth have you found in the statement that there are just as good Christians outside the church as there are in the church?

3. We say we can worship God at home, or in the great outdoors, as well as we can in church. Do we do it? Be brief.

4. What are some reasons for lack of church attendance among church members as expressed by themselves to C. E. reporters. Be brief.

5. Do the non-church goers of our community fail to attend church because of disbelief—in the church, the doctrines it teaches, the sincerity of its communicants—or because of failure on the part of the church to appeal to them? (C. E. reporters.)

6. Is the church to blame for lack of interest?

6a. In what have you and I, as church workers, failed?

7. What are some of the enemies of the church in our town?

8. May all or any of these so-called enemies be made friendly to the cause of the church? If so, how?

9. Why do you, as a Christian, attend church? How has it helped you?

10. How might the Christian Endeavor Society of our church assist materially in increase in church attendance? Come prepared to offer one or more practical suggestions.

11. A few moments time to discussion of these ideas.

12. How might our church lay out a program of work to stimulate interest in church attendance? What will you do to help? Be specific.

Evening church service at 8 o'clock. Subject, "Better Church Attendance."

1. The Church and its Business—Mr. Cookman.

2. A churchless world. What would it be?

3. Has the church failed, or has it only begun to succeed?

4. What the church has done.

5. Our duty to Christ and the church.

ARRESTED FOR DISTURBING THE PEACE

An echo of the recent mistreating of two girls in the Howard street shack was heard in this city yesterday, when the husband of Jessie Montgomery was fined for having engaged in a fist fight on the streets. The man was A. W. Matthias of Petaluma and he was arrested Saturday evening for disturbing the peace.

When the two girls were mistreated in the Howard street shack Jessie Montgomery was believed to have been a single woman. Later it developed that she had been married and had separated from Matthias. She had formerly lived with her husband in Petaluma and had gone to the metropolis.

Matthias was released from the county jail Monday night, having managed to raise the sum of $19, this amount being due on his fine of $20. —Santa Rosa Republican.

Will Clewe, city treasurer and leading merchant, has been confined to his home this week with the prevailing influenza.

Miss Meta Stofen, worthy matron of Valley of the Moon Chapter O. E. S., has been ill and under the doctor's care.

John Beckman, whose establishment near Petaluma was raided on Saturday night by county authorities, was sentenced to 180 days in jail when he appeared before Judge Gallagher in the justice court of Petaluma township.

District Attorney George W. Hoyle was present at the hearing. Beckman had entered a plea of guilty previously and came up today for sentence. Sheriff John M. Boyes and District Attorney Hoyle were in charge of Saturday night's raid. Undersheriff E. D. Bills and Deputy Sheriff Harry Patterson were among the raiding squad.

John Beckman was slated to face the justice court of Petaluma township to be sentenced following pleading guilty Saturday to a charge of selling liquor illegally. Beckman was arrested late Saturday night following a raid directed by District Attorney Hoyle and Sheriff Boyes. Beckman was lodged in the county jail in default of $1500 cash bail.

Many persons had made complaint to authorities that Beckman's place near the old rock quarry was selling liquor to minors and to young girls, it was stated. The district in which Beckman's place was located is the only section of Sonoma county which has a local option ordinance forbidding the sale of intoxicants. The arrest was made under this ordinance.

Documents of authorization to make search and a warrant were placed in the hands of Sheriff Boyes and District Attorney Hoyle and with two deputies the raid was made. A five-gallon jug of liquor and a number of bottles of wine and liquors were seized.

Beckman was taken before Judge Gallagher of the Petaluma justice court where he entered a plea of guilty. The maximum fine under the section ordinance is $500.

COMPLETE PRELIMINARIES FOR OUR HIGHWAY

Passage of a resolution by the county board of supervisors at its session Monday afternoon, providing for county payment of the cost of moving and replacing fences and other structures along the newly acquired right of way for the state highway between Santa Rosa and Sonoma marked one of the last acts in the six months effort to absolutely assure early construction of this important highway link to Schellville. Deeds to right of way parcels have in a number of instances had provisions written into them by the grantors requiring that all costs for moving fences, buildings, etc., disturbed by the 60-foot width of right of way, must be paid for by the county. As the deeds are direct to the state of California, and the highway commission has no funds for either the purchase of rights of way, or for other expenses attendant upon obtaining them, the counties through which the highway runs must stand such expense. This is provided for in the resolution passed on Monday.

Members of the board of supervisors and the chamber of commerce highway committee exchanged felicitations over the successful conclusion of the long task of obtaining the rights of way, and thus assuring the early advertisement for bids for the construction of the highway, by the state highway commission. Assurances that the bids would be called for at once upon receipt of the resolution and all deeds required, and that work should be begun by May 1, have been made by Division Engineer John H. Skeels to chamber of commerce committeemen lately, and it is expected that this will be done without further delay. Supervisor Cunningham turned over a large packet of recorded deeds to the chamber of commerce Monday to be transmitted to the highway commission, and the county surveyor's department was authorized to communicate with the highway commission relative to the work that will be necessary on all structures along the right of way. —Press Democrat.

The condition of Mrs. Cynthia Goodman is said to be greatly improved.

The Grizzly Bear Grows Unwarrantedly

THE GRIZZLY BEAR, official organ of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, growled and shook his "rewski" hair unwarrantedly in the March number of the usually placid periodical. Sonoma got an awful rise out of the little monarch's editor on the matter of the proposed lease of a corner of the historic Plaza for an oil service station. That we should dare to suggest such a thing was dubbed a desecration, characterized as vandalism and then the Grizzly rises up on all fours and comes down on us with a sarcastic imputation that he believes the Trustees would actually sell the bronze Bear Flag monument for junk if they were offered enough.

First let it be known that before the Trustees of the City of Sonoma ever gave the matter of leasing the Plaza corner a serious thought they first sounded out public sentiment very thoroughly in the matter, which absolves them of the diabolic plot to commercialize a cherished landmark. Sonoma's most loyal Californians, including many members of the local Parlor of Native Sons, approved of the idea because of the fact that the leasing of the Plaza corner for $100 per month was a means to a long desired end—the beautification of the historic square which cradled California's history. For years it has stretched forth its neglected arms over in supplication before the more fortunate Mission, reclaimed by the state, but the Plaza's plea for care and regard went unheard or was answered half-heartedly as crippled city finances would permit. Outraged sentiment flared up occasionally but like the decoration of a memorial day, what was accomplished faded away and neglect was soon again apparent.

It frequently occurred to many of us that the state should interest itself in the permanent improvement and upkeep of the historic ground or that the Native Sons and Daughters of California should reclaim it. What should mean more to them than the ground from whence sprang their state flag?

Now that their official organ has arraigned Sonoma for the expedient we would resort to in order to do the work which state pride should have long ago shouldered, we ask what alternative is there by which we can have this landmark we love and cherish, beautified and adorned? The improvement and upkeep of this state square has always been considered beyond the means of our little municipality, whose practical demands preclude sentimental indulgence. We hope our late move to amend ourselves of the only offer we have ever had which held out hope for making a park of the Plaza may perchance lead to the belated recognition of responsibility of the Sons and Daughters of California and that the Grizzly Bear criticism may be followed by constructive suggestions whereby we may avoid commencing a landmark which humiliates those in daily contact with it and those of us who hear from tourists the cruel comments that such a historic spot should remain unadorned. The $5,000 monument to the Bear Flag Party makes more prominent the neglected acreage from which the heroic memorial rises, and has quickened the ambition and hopes of our people that eventually the setting would be in keeping with the prized tribute to our pioneers.

Sonoma needs no defense on the oil service station lease. We are inspired by the highest motives and stand by our convictions that the Sonoma Plaza should become of California's most cherished and recognized landmarks. A practical move to give it what it merits is worth fifty years of sentimentality.

The Consolidated District's Decision

IN THE matter of Dunbar Consolidated District's affiliation with a high school we trust our neighbors will hearken to the call of community pride in our Valley of the Moon and will realize that we should all co-operate to preserve our unity and geographical individuality. The whole county is steadily encroaching on the Valley of the Moon until it is coming to mean a far different territory than it really embraces in its original meaning. The three school districts by uniting with Sonoma Valley Union high school will be in a large measure keeping intact the Sonoma Valley boundaries. Santa Rosa is only too anxious to include Sonoma Valley as part of its domain and we all know what Petaluma tried to do to us.

Sonoma Valley is in a class by itself and will achieve distinction as the realization of it becomes more firmly grounded in those who dwell here and the message of our manifold advantages is flashed to the outside world. Let's all unite in educational as well as other matters.

THE W. C. T. U. ladies now believe that country dances should be supervised. Really, the world must be growing worse for not so many years ago we all got along quite well and with far less prohibition legislation and not half the expensive education. Perhaps since we turned wood sheds into garages and put the strap away boys and girls have got beyond us. Even help the poor reformers. They try at intervals to put their finger on wickedness, and, lo, it jumpeth away, even as the flea, only to reappear in a new place.

THERE'S magic in music as our merchants will quickly discover by the lightning sales they would make if summer band concerts were inaugurated in Sonoma.

HIP! HIP! HURRAH! would be the proper expletive, we presume, for those joyous over Judge "Swacki's" decision that carrying liquor on the hip is not punishable.

THE fire hose treatment for orators probably sweeps the speakers off their feet, something orators usually aim to do to the audience.

NOW THAT Sonoma Valley has the Seals, perhaps we can get the Cliff House.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS FOR SONOMA

In addition to the modern business block and apartments being erected by Sam Sebastiani near the postoffice other improvements are going on in various parts of town.

Clerici and Castagnasso are remodeling the structure formerly occupied by Tony, the barber, and it will be the new stationery, ice cream and candy store for Mr. Clerici. He will move from his present quarters in the Buttotti building about the first of April, as fast growing business necessitating larger quarters, particularly in the summer when the ice cream trade tarts.

A new addition is to be built to the Mission Creamery by A. Pinelli to accommodate the new pasteurizing plant to be installed shortly by Vella Locana. This unit will permit the creamery to handle more of the dairy men's produce and milk will be shipped throughout the year to San Francisco where the creamery firm is establishing several new stores.

At the present time from 1200 to 300 pounds of the Sonoma creamery's Valley of the Moon brand butter is manufactured and sold daily in San Francisco, the butter rating very high in quality tests.

Work on the new pasteurizing unit the creamery will begin shortly, says Joseph Vella, of the firm.

RECEPTION DANCE TO SEALS WELL ATTENDED

The reception dance given to the San Francisco Seals last Saturday night at Boyes Springs theatre drew out a fine crowd to welcome the ball players.

Local folks had a chance to meet the celebrities, including Manager Graham, and Manager Putnam and Coach Nick Williams, who gets so many press notices from the reporter staff now stationed at Boyes. The boys who wanted to dance were introduced to some of our local belles and charming young matrons. Miss Janie Graham acted as hostess of the evening and real sociability reigned throughout the evening.

Music, directed by F. C. Wilson, assisted by his wife, Messrs. Dinty Moore, Jack Craib and others proved extremely popular with the dancers. R. G. Lichtenberg, proprietor of Boyes Springs hotel, was on hand to see that the Seals scored socially and was much gratified at the success of the evening in their honor.

Among visitors this week to see Dr. E. Z. Hennessy of Napa have been F. Wedekind and Louis Martin. They found the doctor reconciled to the loss of his limb and thankful that before he was stricken he saved several critical pneumonia patients.

OLD RESIDENTS SELL AND WILL MOVE TO BURLINGAME

Mrs. G. Munfrey and her mother, Mrs. McKinnon, have sold their place south of town and after a residence of many years in Sonoma, will move to Burlingame, where Mrs. Munfrey's daughter, Janet, is building a pretty bungalow. Miss Janet Munfrey is a trained nurse, beloved by many of the wealthy families of the peninsula and her work is for the most part among them. She has therefore planned to make her home in that vicinity and to have her mother and grandmother with her.

Mrs. Munfrey and her wonderful mother, active and alert though past 90 years of age, will be greatly missed in the church and social circles of the community where they have resided so long.

The Munfrey home has been sold to J. F. O'Brien and family through the agency of the A. L. Beard Co. Mr. O'Brien is a former railroad man.

Mrs. T. E. Torrance of Ukiah is spending the week here, the guest of the DeDevyts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDonough of Agua Caliente were visiting relatives here the later part of the week.

Kay Campbell, who 25 years ago resided here was in town the later part of the week. About that time young Campbell enlisted in the navy, and has been since following the sea, working up to the rank of a lieutenant and is now on the U. S. S. California. Many of his school friends here had forgoten him but were nevertheless glad to see him after so many years absence from the old town.

J. N. Beach, Sonoma Vista's champion whist player, gained honor at Boyes Springs whist party Friday evening. Mr. Beach carried off all the honors, winning the first prize, a percolator and is receiving the congratulations of his many friends throughout the valley.

Two of our rising young men, who were practicing at the S. P. depot one night last week, on nipping a ride on our local flyer, which got too much of a start on the young would-be railroaders, carrying them on several miles toward Santa Rosa. At Warfield the train slowed down and the boys made a leap for liberty, landing several feet below in a ditch, one landing on his head, but neither was injured. They got back to El Verano several hours behind time, much the wiser, and claim our local passenger train is the fastest they have seen, and will steal no more rides on the Santa Rosa flyer at El Verano station.

C. Verbeck, Sonoma's leading tailor, is having a neat garage built next to his residence here.

Mrs. M. O'Dowd of San Francisco was here Sunday looking over property interests.

Mrs. M. Watts of San Francisco has leased a home here for the summer months.

Professor Toutjan, who, it is said, is the champion piano player of the Pacific Coast, is at the Parente Villa and has signed his contract for the season. He hails from San Francisco and is a jazz baby of note.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Miletello entertained at dinner Sunday from San Francisco Edward Faust, Lee Arm, Adam Shraibo and P. Leiser, world war veterans who have seen service in Siberia, the Philippine Islands, the Hawaiian Islands and France. These boys are now students at the Presidio training camp and spent a delightful day looking over the beautiful Sonoma Valley.

Readers of the Index-Tribune now have an eight page paper instead of four or six as formerly, the change coming with the installation of a new Eclipse Folder, which our constantly growing circulation made necessary. The papers were formerly folded by hand, but the task became too great as the number of our subscribers kept

The Index-Tribune aims to keep pace with the community and is constantly adding to its equipment to keep its plant efficient and up-to-date. The latest addition, the folder, is of particular interest to advertisers, for it tells the story of our increased circulation.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Sonoma's League championship tennis team opened a tournament with San Rafael high. The first singles was won by Herschel Hyde, 6-0, 4-6, 6-2, in a hard driving game. Teddy Anthenian by good back court playing won a very close match, 6-4 4-8, 6-3 in the second singles. Don Prestwood and Herschel Hyde displayed excellent form in doubles and returned San Rafael's terrific service and drives with ease. This was an exceedingly good start for our tennis season, as San Rafael was one of the strongest teams around the bay winning the Coast Counties League special tournament last fall. The practice for tennis and baseball has now begun since basket ball season is over. We have a very good tennis team this year. The players are Hyde, Prestwood, Anthenian and Gilbert.

CORSET STAY KILLS WOMAN

Bone Pierces Heart When Girl Falls While Skiing in Swiss Alps.

Gereva, Switzerland.—A telephone corset stay caused the death of a Zurich young woman while skiing. She was making a steep descent with a party of friends when she fell over a ledge, landing 20 feet below in deep snow. Her companions attached no importance to the fall, but on reaching her found the bone had pierced her heart.

This is the second accident of the kind in Switzerland this winter.

"Egg Romance" Cracks; Husband "Hard Boiled"

Frank Olds, of Everton, Mo., wrote his name on an egg and requested the buyer to write to him. It was shipped to a cold storage house in Chicago, and later found its way to a restaurant, where it was boiled and sold to a romantic maiden. She wrote to "the man on the egg," and he replied. More correspondence, and finally they were married.

Now Mrs. Olds is suing for divorce. In her bill she charges her husband with being "hard boiled," a gambler, and a small town sport. She wants to cast him out of the nest.

"Tiruvannamalai" Is Name of Place Where News "Broke"
and That's Reason.
IS CHIEF PILGRIM CENTER

Scene of Recent Encounter Between
Indian Police and Mob of 10,000
Natives Is Described by Geographic Society.

Washington.—One recent encounter between British Indian police and a mob of 10,000 natives, was not "played up" in American newspaper headlines. The name of the town where the disturbances occurred was—

Tiruvannamalai.
"This town is one of the chief pilgrim centers of South India but is little visited by Europeans," explains a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society. "This ostracism is not because the accidental cannot pronounce the name to ask his way, as one was suggests. Tiruvannamalai has 40 large chuttrams, or rest houses, while the only provision for the foreigner is a small bungalow of two rooms."

"Two great festivals every year and a fair every Tuesday assure the gathering numbers of natives," the bulletin continues. "During the Kartigal festival in November or December, 100,000 pilgrims visit the finely carved temple or climb the 'Holy Fire Hill' which gives the town its name. At such times cholera frequently takes a heavy toll and for many years attempts have been made to improve the water supply."

A Cross Roads of Religion and Trade.
"Four roads meet at Tiruvannamalai, three of them crossing the alluvial plain toward the north, south and east. The fourth road carries a heavy traffic over the Chengam Pass into the Salem district. Thus the town is not only a famous religious center but an important entrepot of trade as well."

"South Arcot, the district in which Tiruvannamalai is found, sweeps up from the harborless Coromandel coast fronting on the Bay of Bengal to the Eastern Ghats, the hills which mark the fall line between the plain and the plateau, which drives south like a wedge from the Deccan and splits Madras Presidency into two widely dissimilar regions. Great expanses of reserved forests clothe these hills and the sandalwood and teak found there form some of the most important assets of the region. Leopards, small bears, deer and wild hogs abound and there are several favorite shooting grounds near at hand."

When the Sun Went Out.
"But the main interest in Tiruvannamalai is the fire festival, whose inception recalls one of the famous legends connected with Hindu mythology. Many ages ago, the legend runs, Siva, the destroyer, and his wife Parvati were wandering through Kailasa, the Hindu paradise. It was the twilight hour and the flower garden in which they strolled was filled with the seductive perfumes of the East. In a flirtatious moment Parvati playfully covered the eyes of her lord with her shapely hands and drew the godly head to her bosom."

"The time quickly passed for these two wanderers in Elysium. But what seemed but a moment to them was a period of many years for the hapless inhabitants of the world whose sun and moon had thus been darkened. When Siva realized the hardship which his wife's coquetry had caused, he sent her forth to do penance at the various holy places with which the southern portion of India is dotted. When she at last reached Tiruvannamalai, the famous 'Holy Fire Hill' of South Arcot district, Siva appeared at the top of the isolated peak, as a sign that his wife's thoughtlessness was forgiven."

"At the foot of the hill, just outside the chief town of the region, lies the fine temple of Tiruvannamalai. It is to this place that the pilgrims flock on the occasion of the festival which commemorates the reconciliation of their chief god and goddess. The culminating feature of the celebration is the lighting by the priests of a beacon fire on the summit of the hill, which can be seen for many miles throughout the district."

Camphor and Butter Feed Beacon.
"So heavy is the rush of pilgrims to see the blaze on the summit that strict police control is needed throughout the 48 hours that the fire usually burns. Camphor and clarified butter or ghee, brought as offerings by the pilgrims, make up a large part of the fuel. The festival, which lasts for ten days, ends with this sacrificial fire which commemorates the forgiveness of Parvati by Siva and the return of light to a darkened world."

"The large Siva temple is among the most interesting in South India, for from the slopes of the sacred mountain, which flurries red with the coming of the morning sun, one can look down upon this typical Dravidian temple and see how, with the increasing wealth of the shrine, successive courts were added around the central mandapam. The outer wall, embellished by four large gopurams or entrance gateways, is most impressive of all. These gopurams, or gopura, which somewhat correspond to the pylons of the Egyptian temples, are in themselves books of mythology. The thousands of figures on their sloping sides picture scenes from Hindu mythology."

SAY PLEASE OR NECESSARY

Former city trustee, Charles McDevitt, now a resident of Summit in the high Sierras, where he is postmaster, registration clerk, deputy sheriff and hotel manager, writes to his former colleague, George Breitenbach as follows on the subject of the proposed oil station lease:

Donner, Cal., March 6, 1922.

Mr. George Breitenbach,
Sonoma, Cal.

My Dear Mr. Breitenbach:—

Your kind favor at hand this morning, and I take great pleasure in acceding to your request for an article from me, giving my views in regards to leasing part of the plaza to private individuals or corporations, for commercial use.

In my opinion the leasing of any part of Sonoma's historic Plaza to a private concern as a means of deriving revenue to improve the said Plaza would not only be a great wrong but it is entirely unnecessary.

If the Board of Trustees and the people of Sonoma will reflect and look back a few years they will note that the cry was that the streets of your historic town could not be improved as they were of the opinion that the town and its people were not able to raise the funds to have the work properly done, but while passing through Sonoma a few weeks ago I was agreeably surprised to see the wonderful progress you have made, and I can truthfully state that no city of its size in the State of California has finer streets than the city of Sonoma, nor did I note any leased oil station in the center of Broadway that was helping toward defraying the expense of this great improvement.

Not throwing any bouquets at the writer or any of the gentlemen who were associated with me as members of the Board of Trustees, I again state that it is unnecessary to lease any part of the historic Plaza to private concerns as a means of raising revenue to improve same.

While a member of the Board there were many improvements made in the Plaza and every cent was set aside from the general fund for that purpose.

Not only did the board at that time improve the Plaza, but they built new concrete bridges, where most needed besides paying all necessary expenses of running the city government without the curtailment of street lights and other public comforts and on retiring left a substantial sum in the City Treasury. Therefore, with the improved streets, one of the city's annual and heaviest expenditures has been removed, and I cannot see why a sum greater than that offered by the oil company cannot be set aside for Plaza improvements, instead of making Sonoma the laughing stock of the universe by leasing California's most historic spot for a pitiable sum of money that would not be sufficient to pay for the watering of the young trees that are yet alive thereon.

In closing I will say that I am heartily in accord with the sentiments expressed by Clarence Hunt in the late issue of the Grizzly Bear, in which he states that it is not only the duty of every man, woman and child of Sonoma, but every native son and sentiment loving citizen of the state of California to stand firm and prevent the giving over of the historic spot which gave birth to the great state of California, for an oil station or any other private use.

With best wishes for the welfare of Sonoma, I am

Yours very truly,

CHAS. McDEVITT,
Donner, Calif.

DEATH OF A BROTHER

T. W. Carter of St. Louis, Mo., a brother of W. W. Carter, the local real estate man, passed away last week. He was a broker of St. Louis and leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter to mourn him. W. W. Carter had planned to make a trip east this spring to visit him.

Mrs. F. W. Doherty and Mrs. L. H. Gorton will be hostesses of the Ladies Aid's afternoon, the 11th. Mrs. Doherty's spacious home will be the scene of the gathering.

Dog First Saves Baby,
Then Runs for Help

Redwood City, Calif.—The faithfulness and initiative of a Scottish collie saved the life of three-year-old Jean MacAllister. The child wandered from home and was not missed until the dog appeared in great excitement and began tugging at the skirts of Mrs. MacAllister, who was working in the yard. The mother followed "Don," the collie, to a large pond nearly half a mile away, where she found her child lying on the bank with her clothes drenched. Apparently little Jean had fallen into the pond and had been pulled out by the dog.

DROPS HALF-MILE IN CHUTE

Mountain Climber Has Thrilling Experience in Heavy Snow in Washington.

Snoquomle, Wash.—Stepping out to the edge of a snow-covered precipice to point out some scenery to his wife and little son, Howard Rupert, a salesman, disappeared into loose snow. Mrs. Rupert quickly notified men nearby, who looked in vain for several hours for Rupert. They were about to give up the search on account of darkness when the missing man appeared. He declared he had dropped into a loose snowdrift and falling through landed directly into an unused log chute to carry timber in summer to the river far below.

Rupert said the chute was filled with ice and that he tobogganed down into the valley at such a high rate of speed he could not yell loud enough to be heard. Loggers found he had taken a ride of fully half a mile in the ice-bound log chute. Rupert was uninjured, but was minus a large part of his wearing apparel.

FATHER OF 28 BOSSES RANCH

Declares None of His Wives or Offspring Were Allowed to "Talk Back."

Greensboro, N. C.—"Uncle Bob" Austin, an old-time dairy living near here, is the father of 28 sons and daughters, 26 of whom are living. All but seven having gone off to themselves, he has taken three other children to rear.

Uncle Bob's first wife bore him eight children, the second, fourteen; the third, still a husky young woman, six. Austin is the tenant manager of a farm. He eats three square meals a day and chews tobacco, but does not smoke and doesn't allow smoking on his premises.

No wife or child of his ever gave him any "back talk" more than once, he says. "If they gets upity I soon thrubs 'em," he said with a chuckle. "In my house dey must go my way."

Austin is seventy-one years old and was born a slave. He remembers hiding meat in the woods when Sherman's army came through North Carolina after its march through Georgia to the sea.

False Teeth Scare Farmer.
Union City, Mich.—Farmers living near Athens have been puzzled for a week trying to solve a mystery on the farm of E. B. Adams. Christmas morning while Mr. Adams was doing the chores, he was startled at what appeared to be a grinning face peering through a crack in the steps leading to his corncrib. Investigation disclosed a set of false teeth. No one living in that region has lost their teeth, he has learned, and how the "grinders" happened to stray to so remote a place is a puzzle to the ruralites.

Frats Use Mental Torture.
Providence, R. I.—Intellectual barbarity has replaced the traditional physical punishment applied to freshmen fraternity candidates at Brown. Now upper classmen are substituting mental torture by methods learned in psychological courses instead of by the time-honored custom of paddling.

MONROE'S HOME TO BE RESTORED

New York House Wherein Author of "Booth" Died Rescued
From Junkman.
ENDED DAYS WITH DAUGHTER

American Scenic and Historic Society
Will Preserve Last Haven of Fifth President of the United States.

New York.—In what used to be the parlor of an aged, ramshackle house at 68 Prince street, New York, a brace of junk men the other day stooped among little mounds of rags and bones and bottles, their hands moving in a wild frenzy of assortment. From the ceiling hung flimsy chains of dirt, the walls were great faces pockmarked by the plague of neglect. The floor seemed as the grimy palette of the artist Time, who had painted the place, in skillful completeness, with a thick coat of dust. Against this single motif, black, the junk men worked with fastidious care.

That front room was clean and cheery in 1830. It was of real beauty, for, as the house was in a fashionable section of New York, the reception of persons high in social circles took place there. And one day in that year James Monroe, fifth President of the United States, mounted the steps with perhaps the thought well in his mind that here would be his last haven.

An Arrival Prepared for.

One may imagine how busy Mrs. Samuel L. Gouverneur was as she directed the servants to tidy the home for her father, Mr. Monroe, observes the Kansas City Times. He was seventy-two years old, and she realized that it would be extremely nice for her to make him as comfortable as possible; he needed comfort; his health was impaired, his fortune shattered, and he had been overwhelmed only a twelvemonth before by the death of his wife.

So, in that room where the junk men labored with their choice bits of soiled cloth and their smelly bottles only the other day, the man who conceived the Monroe doctrine sat, almost a hundred years ago, and reviewed his career, or read, or merely looked far and away, in consummate idleness. His death occurred in the daughter's home July 4, 1831.

The old brick house is to be given a reverent bath and preserved by the American Scenic and Historic society. Day by day it has suffered under the lack of care; many a wrinkle has appeared in its stark countenance, and if such a thing as a house can be rheumatic there is no doubt it has felt many a cringe in its joints. It was once proud and pretty, for Mr. Gouverneur was postmaster nine years, and it sheltered gatherings of the elite. It is fitting that this former dwelling place of the author of one of America's most persistently arising national policies should be rescued from oblivion among jobbing houses and garages.

On a front outside wall of the once colonial mansion is a memorial tablet of Mr. Monroe. It was unveiled April 28, 1905, by Gouverneur Hoes, then fifteen years old, a great-great-grandson, under the auspices of the women's auxiliary to the scenic and historic group which sponsored the move. The date marked the 147th anniversary of the birth of the former President.

At the time there was a cheap restaurant in the drawing room; a shoe factory's machinery rattled on the second floor and from the dormer window hung the sign of a furrier. The restaurant man agreed to clean his place and disappear for the day so the auxiliary could hold its ceremony within.

Versatile Public Life.

When Mr. Monroe left his Virginia home to live in New York he had ended a versatile public life. At eighteen he left Williams college to enter the revolutionary army of George Washington, and rose to be military commissioner of his home state. He was elected to the assembly of Virginia later; in time he became a member of congress, he was in the convention which considered the constitution, and he was minister plenipotentiary to France.

On his return Mr. Monroe was chosen governor of Virginia; then, as envoy extraordinary to France, he negotiated the Louisiana purchase. After holding the ministerial position in the British Isles he entered as a leading figure the negotiations for the purchase of Florida from Spain. A second term as governor of Virginia and periods of duty in the secretarieships of state and war preceded his election twice as President.

Outstanding of the services of Mr. Monroe was that which has come to mean so much in the determination of American international relations. In the action of the scenic and historic society is to be restored the final refuge of the man whose chief claim to perpetual glory was the declaration that:

"Neither entangling ourselves in the broils of Europe nor suffering any power of the world to interfere with the affairs of the new, and attempt on their (the European powers) part to extend to any portion of this hemisphere would be dangerous to our peace and safety and would be opposed accordingly."

MERVYN HOTEL DANCE IS A BIG SUCCESS

The opening dance given at the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen, Saturday night, was largely attended and one of the most successful ever held in the upper part of the valley. Every one enjoyed dancing to the steamer Harvard's orchestra and complimented the hotel's proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Buck, on the excellence of their new maple floor.

A buffet supper was served at midnight and added to the sociability of the evening.

In answer to the request of their patrons, a second dance will be given at the Mervyn on Saturday, Mar. 18.

A THIRD SON IS BORN

Cards from Los Angeles this week announced the arrival of a third son to Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stock (Georgie Andrews). The eight and one-half pound boy was born at the home of Dr. Frances Leix, aunt of Mrs. Stock. The baby has been christened Francis Andrew Stock.

CALIFORNIA CAR COMPANY STOCKHOLDERS IN VALLEY GET ENCOURAGING REPORT

The Sonoma Valley stockholders in the California Car Company received encouraging reports from A. D. Bowen's recent trip east. Mr. Bowen discovered while there that his car will be in great demand and the O. S. Flath Co., railway supply company of Chicago can sell 100 of the railway motor cars during the next year.

Arrangements were made to have the Ruggles Truck Manufacturing Co. of Saganaw, Michigan, manufacture the cars as orders come in. The plan to establish a factory at Martinez, Calif., has been changed.

Under date of Feb. 12, the patent attorney of the California Car Co. was advised that the application for a patent on the vertical drive had been allowed by the U. S. Patent office. This gives the company an absolute monopoly. There are quite a number of Sonoma Valley stockholders in the company and the people generally are interested in this type of cheap transportation for interurban service.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Miss Rose Camenata, fiancée of Donald McIntosh, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Frank Giorno last Saturday night. Many lovely gifts were received by the bride-to-be. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the evening in Miss Camenata's honor.

John Pluth has been sick for several weeks with influenza and bronchitis and has been under the care of Dr. W. B. Hays.

FARMER FLEES FROM "IMPS"

Tale of Tricks of Evil Spirits Excites People of Nova Scotia Community.

Halifax, N. S.—While no broomstick riding bags of the traditional witch features have been seen hurdling across the face of the moon, there are any number of people in Nova Scotia who will take an oath that imps of no good intent are peopling the fair hills of Antigonish county.

Alexander MacDonald, a farmer, has boarded up his valley home and fled with his family and chattels in the dead of winter. His neighbors say they have seen with their own eyes, and without the assistance of potent spirits, the manifestations of the Evil One.

So much credence is being given to the tales of witches and imps that a Halifax newspaper has assigned a member of its staff to break his way through the inland snows until he reaches the MacDonald house and live there for two weeks.

MacDonald and his family awoke one morning three weeks ago to find that their horses had been driven into a father and returned to their stalls before dawn. The cattle had been turned out of the barn in a driving snowstorm. The tails of the heifers had been braided.

This was repeated the next morning and the next. The third night, MacDonald says, the fire imps appeared. In unexpected places jets of flame would break out for no apparent reason. The following nights he called neighbors to see for themselves. They swore that they saw fires leap from bare floors and subside, or flare up from a fireless stove and disappear.

In each case a bit of absorbent cotton or highly inflammable calico was found near the source of the fire, but that only deepened the mystery. Where had the cotton and calico come from? After a week MacDonald and his family fled, taking up their home in Caladonia M.D.
